Realise the Dream

Welcome

“On behalf of Vinieris Real Estate & AGV Developments, we would like to welcome you to this information and property presentation of our group of companies.

When we created Vinieris Real Estate Group in 2002, our aim was to offer people from any country, the chance to own the home of their dreams on the Island of Kefalonia. Today, having sold and built so many dream homes, we have become internationally recognised for our highly satisfied clientele, have made a lot of friends in the process and we believe that we have achieved what we aimed for - making people's dreams come true.

From a small family company, we have grown into the leading Real Estate & Development group on the Island, but we still keep our family values in the operation of our business. Our continued success is not only due to our philosophy, but also to our unique blend of talented colleagues, our inspiration, and our carefully selected business associates. We are very proud that we now comprise a group of companies, all created in order to fully encompass and facilitate our clients' requirements and needs. Our sister companies: Vinieris Developments, Vinieris Property Management, Holiday Villas Kefalonia Ltd, & Vinieris Kefalonian Properties Ltd, were specifically created to give our clients complete peace of mind, before, during and after the purchase or construction of their dream property.

We hope you will find this brochure presentation of selected properties helpful in your search for an investment here in Kefalonia and we would like to assure you that we shall always be an open minded, evolving organization, offering our clients solutions that will suit their personal needs and circumstances.

We look forward to seeing you in Kefalonia and would like to extend a warm invitation to you to visit us at our head office in Argostoli”.

With our very best wishes to you,
Adonis & George Vinieris

Kefalonia

It was Louis de Bernieres' bestselling novel 'Captain Corelli's Mandolin', published in the mid-nineties and later made into the popular film that brought the island of Kefalonia from a relatively unknown Greek Island into the global spotlight. The Island has been regularly voted in the top ten destinations in the world for scenic beauty and therefore, has become the "Jewel of the Ionian Islands."

Kefalonia is the largest of the seven Ionian Islands, lying off the west coast of mainland Greece. Covering an area of 270 square kilometres the island is mountainous and covered in forest and vegetation. Unlike many of its sister islands, Kefalonia enjoys a number of rivers, lakes and underground caves. It is also famed for its clear turquoise waters against numerous white sandy beaches and private pebble coves, with a coastline stretching over 250kms. The island has many wonderful bays and inlets that form its unusual shape.

Kefalonia has a population of approximately 40 000 whose main occupations and source of income are agriculture, fishing and tourism. With tourism playing such a huge part in the economy, there are a growing number of people from all over Europe who are recognising the potential of investment on the Island.

Despite strong cultural influences from the Italians (specifically, the Venetians), together with the French and British, Kefalonia has retained its own authentic Greek character, unlike more easterly parts of Greece.

The capital, Argostoli, is the largest town of Kefalonia. Protected in a natural harbour, it is beautifully spread into low hills full of vegetation that almost reaches the sea. To the east of Argostoli at the end of the Bay, sits the nature reserve at Koutavos lagoon. Just 3 kilometres West of the city, lies Lassi area, famous for its resorts and golden sandy beaches, such as Makris and Platis Gialos.

On the North coast lies Myrtos bay, known for its incredible aquamarine coloured sea, making it a popular beach with visitors from all over the world. From here the tiny hamlet of Assos is visible, crowned by an imposing Venetian fortress. The furthest village north is the traditional fishing village of Fiscardo which attracts visitors from all over the globe and is popular with celebrities and the "jet-set". Fiscardo, although traditional in style, is very cosmopolitan and is often referred to as the "Kefalonian Riviera", attracting large private yachts and regularly featured in the media as one of the most beautiful places in Greece.

The South-East coast offers key tourist destinations including the village of Scala with its extensive sandy beaches and luxurious resorts. One of the main ferry ports is located in this region in the pretty town of Poros; a new marina is under construction in the fishing village of Katelios, which will offer a number of berths for yachts and pleasure craft and is certain to further improve the local area. Katelios is famed for its numerous fresh fish tavernas and also its proximity to Kaminia Beach, the protected long stretch of fine sand which is a nesting area for the 'Caretta Caretta' loggerhead turtles during the summer months.

Sami is located on the East coast of Kefalonia and is one of the main ports of Kefalonia island. Surrounded by green mountains in the background of a sea gulf, Sami is a safe harbour and a significant milestone for many destinations. 17 caves systems have been recorded near to Sami, which is unique in Greece.

The most notable and widely known are the underground lake of Mellisani in Karavomilos and the Cave of Drogarati. Sami became widely known from the movie "Captain Corelli's Mandolin" and the beautiful beaches such as Sami Beach and Antisamos. Agia Efimia is also located in this part of the island; one of the most beautiful seaside villages in Kefalonia, having a truly cosmopolitan air and featuring amazing scenery.

On the West coast lies Lixouri which is one of the most picturesque cities on the island and the second most populous after Argostoli. Lixouri is one of the towns of Kefalonia, which provides many attractions for visitors, with its golden beaches such as Petanoi Beach, Xi and Lepeda.

Livathos region, on the South-west undoubtedly sums up Kefalonia. It is within easy travelling distance of both the capital Argostoli and the airport, making it ideal not only for holidays, but also as a permanent base. Historically, it has strong ties with shipping and many seafarers originate from this part of the island. Agriculture and fishing also continue to play an important part in the lives of local people. A strong community spirit still exists throughout the area with numerous local events and festivals taking place throughout the year in the traditional and well-known villages, such as Kourkoumelata, Svoronata, Lakithra, Sarlata, Karavados and Pessada. The region is also one of the most popular due to its superb coastline, with numerous beaches including Avithos, Ai Hellis, St. Thomas, Spartia, Trapezaki, Lourdas and many others.

Why invest in Kefalonia now?

“Aptly named ‘The Jewel of the Ionian’, the island of Kefalonia has become an extremely popular holiday destination. Blessed with over 300 days of sunshine a year, the Island enjoys a typical Mediterranean climate with long warm summers and mild winters.

The tourist industry in Kefalonia started developing in earnest during the 1980s and visitor levels have continued to rise ever since.

With tourism increasing year on year, so does the demand for accommodation, whether that is in the form of high class hotels, affordable self-catering accommodation, or the increasingly popular private villa market.

There is also a higher demand now on flights into the Island, and with more and more countries offering direct flights to Kefalonia in the summer, it is certain that in 2-3 years’ time, Kefalonia will have direct flights from most European countries. As a result the villa market here in the island will most probably prove to be the strongest in Europe and Kefalonia is truly becoming one of the top destinations in the entire world.

Kefalonia has proved a strong investment for our clients, as it continues to offer a true and exclusive market, steady growth and a sustainable income stream.

Kefalonia has kept its natural beauty intact, with no massive concrete accommodation units due to strict building regulations, and as a result, the villa market is undoubtedly thriving as more and more visitors choose this kind of stylish, luxurious and affordable accommodation.

Now is the right time to buy or build a property in Kefalonia, either as an investment opportunity or holiday home (ideally both) or alternatively, as a permanent residence. Whilst property markets have fallen around the world, Kefalonia has remained stable, with unique opportunities arising to the discerning investor. We would always recommend that each property investment should form part of a long-term strategy to achieve your financial goals”.

Vinieris Kefalonian Properties Ltd

Following the success of our company on the Island, we decided to form our sister company Vinieris Kefalonian Properties Ltd in 2006. We formed the company with the aim of further enhancing the customer-led focus of the Kefalonian real estate business and as a UK base for those clients who find it more convenient to meet with someone closer to home.

Based in Cheshire, in the very heart of England, the company is operated and managed by Paul Hitchen, who has over 35 years experience in the UK construction industry. Vinieris Kefalonian Properties Ltd serves customers of both companies, not only as a valuable link between Kefalonia and the UK, but it also acts as an additional market place for resale property and land, thus giving all our clients a unique advantage.

Testimonials

Our Villa dream started to become reality one sunny day in November 2014 when Paul Hitchin pulled on to the available piece of land. Within 30 seconds, after a mixture of the view, potential and Paul's infectious enthusiasm we had made the decision to proceed. Paul then took us to look at other Villa's they had designed and built to help us decide how we wanted ours.

We received the initial Villa designs via email and were able to modify certain features, making use of the knowledge and experience of the Vinieris team of what would work and perhaps not.

Our Hand was held all the way through the process, opening bank accounts, how to transfer payments etc - even down to the best place to buy Chocolate Croissants! During the build, which was impressive, we received copious photographs keeping us informed of almost daily progress and really making us feel part of the process.

"Deciding to buy a property In Greece in these challenging times involves careful consideration. You need to have a dream that is sustaining & powerful but also ultimately pragmatic.

Once you have set your sights on the achingly beautiful island of Kefalonia, you can be sure that in George, Adonis, Paul & Maria you will find the support & knowledge to help you achieve your dream, find exactly the right property for you & the patience to guide you throughout the buying process. If, like me, you are lucky enough to find real friendship here too, you will count yourself fortunate beyond imagining!

The build process was about 14 months and during that time we made a few trips to the island to actually "touch" our Villa and had some very exciting visits to kitchen design shops etc. to choose everything from cookers down to door handles, always with a guiding hand from the Vinieris team.

We used the Villa for the first time in July 2016 and absolutely loved it; we and our family now try to use the villa for about 3 months a year.

For myself, I was doubly lucky because the villa I set my sights on was actually built by the Vinieris team which gives me the added confidence of a seriously well built house. I am looking forward enormously to spending much of my future on this gorgeous island and can't wait to return in the Spring!

Although the Villa is finished our involvement with the Vinieris team has not, as we now rent the Villa, through their holiday Company. This not only provides an income which pays the Villa bills but gives us peace of mind that someone from the team is always around keeping an eye on the place.

Paul, my special thanks to you; you have turned one of life's most potentially stressful undertakings into 'a walk in the park'!

We have totally fallen in love with the villa and the islands way of life, so much so, that we are now planning to move out permanently.

Testimonials

Having fallen in love with Kefalonia, I visited Vinieris Real Estate for a week in October 2016. I was provided with great accommodation and George drove me around each day to view a host of properties for sale. I settled on one existing villa that, with some serious refurbishment, would provide us with our dream home away from home. After viewing again with my wife Monica in January, we completed the purchase in March 2017.

Every step of the process was made easy by the professional help from Vinieris staff. Adonis helped with the negotiations to purchase and in one afternoon Christina walked me around Argostoli to arrange my bank account, a lawyer, accountant, power of attorney and my all-important tax number. I think this lot would have taken me at least 6 months on my own! (my Greek is limited to "kalimera" and "efharisto").

Then it was the turn of Vinieris Property Development to plan the refurbishments to our villa. Adonis managed the development from start to finish, and by using his hand-picked contractors the whole process went like clockwork. I've built and refurbished several houses before and the workmanship from everyone here was top-notch. In 5 months we made plans and applied for permissions; completely stripped the interior of the villa; moved walls; renewed electrics, plumbing and a/c; retiled floors and bathrooms; repainted inside and out; and completely remodelled the outside with paved areas, gardens and a 12-metre infinity pool.

We now enjoy living in this island paradise for most of the summer months

Colin Watson - Koroni

"When I was 18 I first went to Greece on holiday and instantly fell in love with the people, the climate and the majesty of Mediterranean colours. From that day forward it was my dream to one day live on a Greek isle. My wife and I have travelled to many parts of Greece, but Kefalonia turned out to be the place where we both knew instantly we wanted to stay.

In 2009 we were fortunate to meet with Paul Hitchen from Vineries Estates in Kefalonia. From that initial meeting we went on to meet with George and Adonis, the owners of Vineries and we soon decided, that here was a company of impeccable reputation and one we could trust.

From day one we were involved, from the initial drawing up of the plans, to choosing the fixtures and fittings of the finished Villa. Every step of the build was explained to us and we were consulted throughout the project to make sure we were happy with the progress. We were sent photographs, sometimes two or three times a week of the build and we eagerly opened each Jpeg to view the next step as it proceeded to turn from a concrete shell into the beautiful home that we now have.

The Villas which Vineries produce are second to none, and I have been taken around to view more or less all their builds, so I have seen them first hand. The finished product is as important, as much to Vineries, as it is to their clients, to the point where they made structural changes to our Villa in the form of beautiful columns and a pergola on the front, purely because it would look better. This was of no extra cost to us. Likewise an original concrete surrounding wall to the garden area was changed to a hand built stone one, again at no extra cost, purely because George thought it would be of a more aesthetic appearance! What other building company would do that?

As far as my wife and I are concerned, Vineries should change their name to "Dream Makers" because they have certainly made our dream come true and we can not recommend them highly enough.

We bought our villa in the beautiful village of Tselendata, near Fiscardo in September 2014. Being our first overseas purchase we were full of concern as to the whole property buying process. Fortunately, help was at hand in the guise of Vinieris Real Estate.

Throughout the whole process from finding our lovely villa to the completion of formalities, Adonis and his wonderful team were there to hold our hands. We still keep in touch and we regard Adonis and the team as our friends.

"We bought our little house in Agonas three years ago from Vinieris Real Estate and moved to Kefalonia permanently last year. From the minute we walked into the Vinieris office they could not have been more helpful, and made the whole process of buying property a smooth and enjoyable experience. From helping with opening a bank account to making sure we had the best lawyer on the island, the time and effort they put in to making us feel welcome on the island was second to none.

Since moving here all of the work we have done on our house has been coordinated through Vinieris and the standard of workmanship and project management has been brilliant throughout.

Moving to Kefalonia has been a great decision and we are very happy living here."

Peter and Alix Mumford

"From the very first contact we had with Vinieris we were treated in a friendly and professional manner. Nothing was too much trouble for them in answering all our questions and queries and their help in introducing other professional contacts was willing and easy and has proved invaluable.

When you are looking to buy property in the sun it is easy to let your heart rule your head but the way George and the team run the business they allow you to enjoy the journey whilst they make sure everything is covered.

If you are looking for property in Kefalonia there is only one place to look - Vinieris.

Two new happy Kefalonians
Steve & Dot"

Everyone at Vinieris has been so helpful from the moment we first enquired about purchasing a property on our dream island of Kefalonia. From our first meeting with Adonis and then all the help provided by Christina, Dawn and Elini they have helped guide us through all the steps of buying a property.

They have helped us in so many ways and continue to do so. Even though we have completed our purchase we always get a friendly welcome when we drop in to say hello. They help with each step of the process from getting a Greek Tax Id, a Greek Bank Account, Solicitor and Accountant, they even introduced us to a Kitchen Company who have been great as well.

We would thoroughly recommend using Vinieris to start your dream of a property in the sunshine of Kefalonia.
